

Wendy Wood

Artist, Illustrator, Graphic Designer

Creating art is a meditative and relaxing experience for me. It is a time to reflect, let go and enjoy a peaceful moment in our fast-paced and over-connected world. A time to play, experiment and embrace the happy accidents that naturally occur using an intuitive and spontaneous process.

Influenced by nature, music, literature and design, my art is a colorful mix of watercolors, textures and lines — overlapping and merging. A flowing elegance drifts across the page, mindful of organic shapes and white space. Soft, round and fluid movements with overlapping brush strokes combine to form a light, airy, flowing experience.

Complementing her artist endeavors, Wendy founded Wendy Wood Design in 2009. Her ability to craft a visual story and manage multiple projects, team members and deadlines adds immediate value for creative and marketing teams looking for real results.

Building on her extensive career with small design studios and large corporations, Wendy has experienced how different processes and approaches serve different business needs and learned how to translate this experience to best serve various creative marketing teams.

With over two decades working with Fortune 500 brands, Wendy has crafted a streamlined process, making your job easier and delivering solutions tailored to your specific goals.

Wendy lives, works and plays in San Carlos. After hours, Wendy enjoys sports, hiking, skiing and kayaking. She is an avid reader who loves to travel and spend time with her husband, two boys and two dogs.
